What you as the HOST will be responsible for while hosting the Purple Air sensor:

- Letting the CEPA office know:
 - When the Wi-Fi and electric are down at your location.
 - When the Purple Air unit interior red light is not on.
- Keep water away from the socket area.
- Check the sensor location for bugs, cobwebs, leaves and debris that may be in, on or near the unit.

What CEPA will provide to you as the Host:

- The purchase, installation, maintenance and removal of the sensor.
- Quarterly inspection of the sensor and its immediate area.
- The cost of any maintenance to the sensor, its parts (internal and external) and the power cord.
- The downloading of the sensor's monthly data for analysis purposes.

This is a voluntary program. CEPA will not be liable for any damage to the host structure if the host moves the sensor from its approved CEPA location. CEPA will correctly seal any CEPA made installation structure modifications but not be liable for any unapproved changes to the sensor location made by the resident after the sensor has been installed by CEPA. There should be no added data charges once the sensor is hooked up to the Wi-Fi, but if the host goes over their phone data allotment, CEPA nor the CAMPO Tribe is not responsible for the user's self-created data overage charges.
